Context

- Inadequate understanding of loss and damage issues and capacity from local to national levels
- Fewer examples of grassroots level integration of DRR, CCA and L&D
- Limited interaction between the affected community, scientists, policymakers and practitioners to find solutions

Overview

- Title: Developing and promoting a people-centred approach to assess and address impacts of climate change induced loss and damage
- Duration: Three years
- Five countries: Bangladesh, Cambodia, Myanmar, Nepal and Vietnam
- Partners:
 - ActionAid International - Proponent
 - Asian Disaster Reduction and Response Network (ADRRN) - Collaborator
 - Climate Action Network – South Asia (CANSA) - Collaborator

Key Activities

The research and capacity building project will:

- Develop community-level assessments using participatory and scientific methodologies to integrate loss and damage perspective into existing resilience thinking, practice and policies
- Develop range of approaches to effectively link Disaster Risk Reduction (DRR), Climate Change Adaptation (CCA), and L&D, for practitioners and policymakers
- Enhance capacity of DRR and CCA networks across South Asia and South East Asia on comprehensive resilience approach - linking DRR, CCA and L&D.
