

Climate governance in the Agriculture and Land use sector

A systems wide approach and scaling up ambition by engaging the private sector

Neha Rai, Climate finance and M&E specialist, FAO

Asia Pacific Adaptation Network,
8th March 2021

Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations

Agriculture a primary economic sector: Why CSA investments?

Climate governance in the agriculture sector

NAP-AG – integrating Ag into national planning processes

Integrating agriculture in National Adaptation Plans (NAP-Ag) Programme
Experiences of integrating agriculture in national and national adaptation planning processes
March 2021
Public expenditure analysis for climate change adaptation and mitigation in the agriculture sector: a case study of Kenya

Barriers in operationalising CC policies and plans in Agri sector and Private sector engagement

Limited use of climate information to identify transformative climate actions

Insufficient cross-sectoral planning and systems wide approach

Insufficient Private sector engagement in implementation

Limited integration of NDC and NAP land use and Ag priorities into national planning processes

Limited country level monitoring systems for systemic learning

Insufficient investments and inadequate public private finance

What are the barriers to engage Pvt sector ?

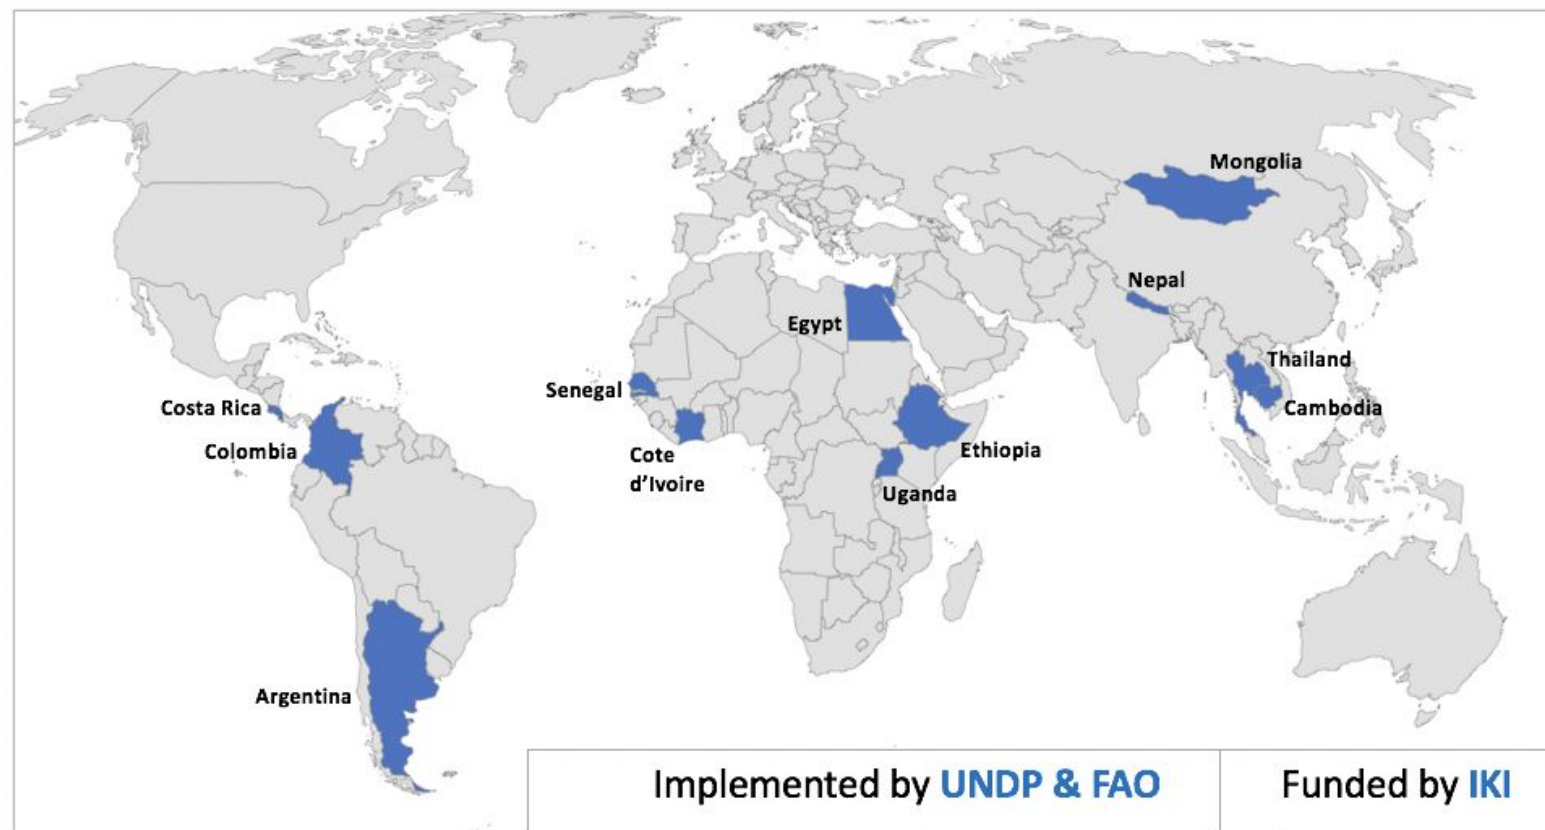

Limited collaboration with Govt and enabling environment

Knowledge & capacity Barriers

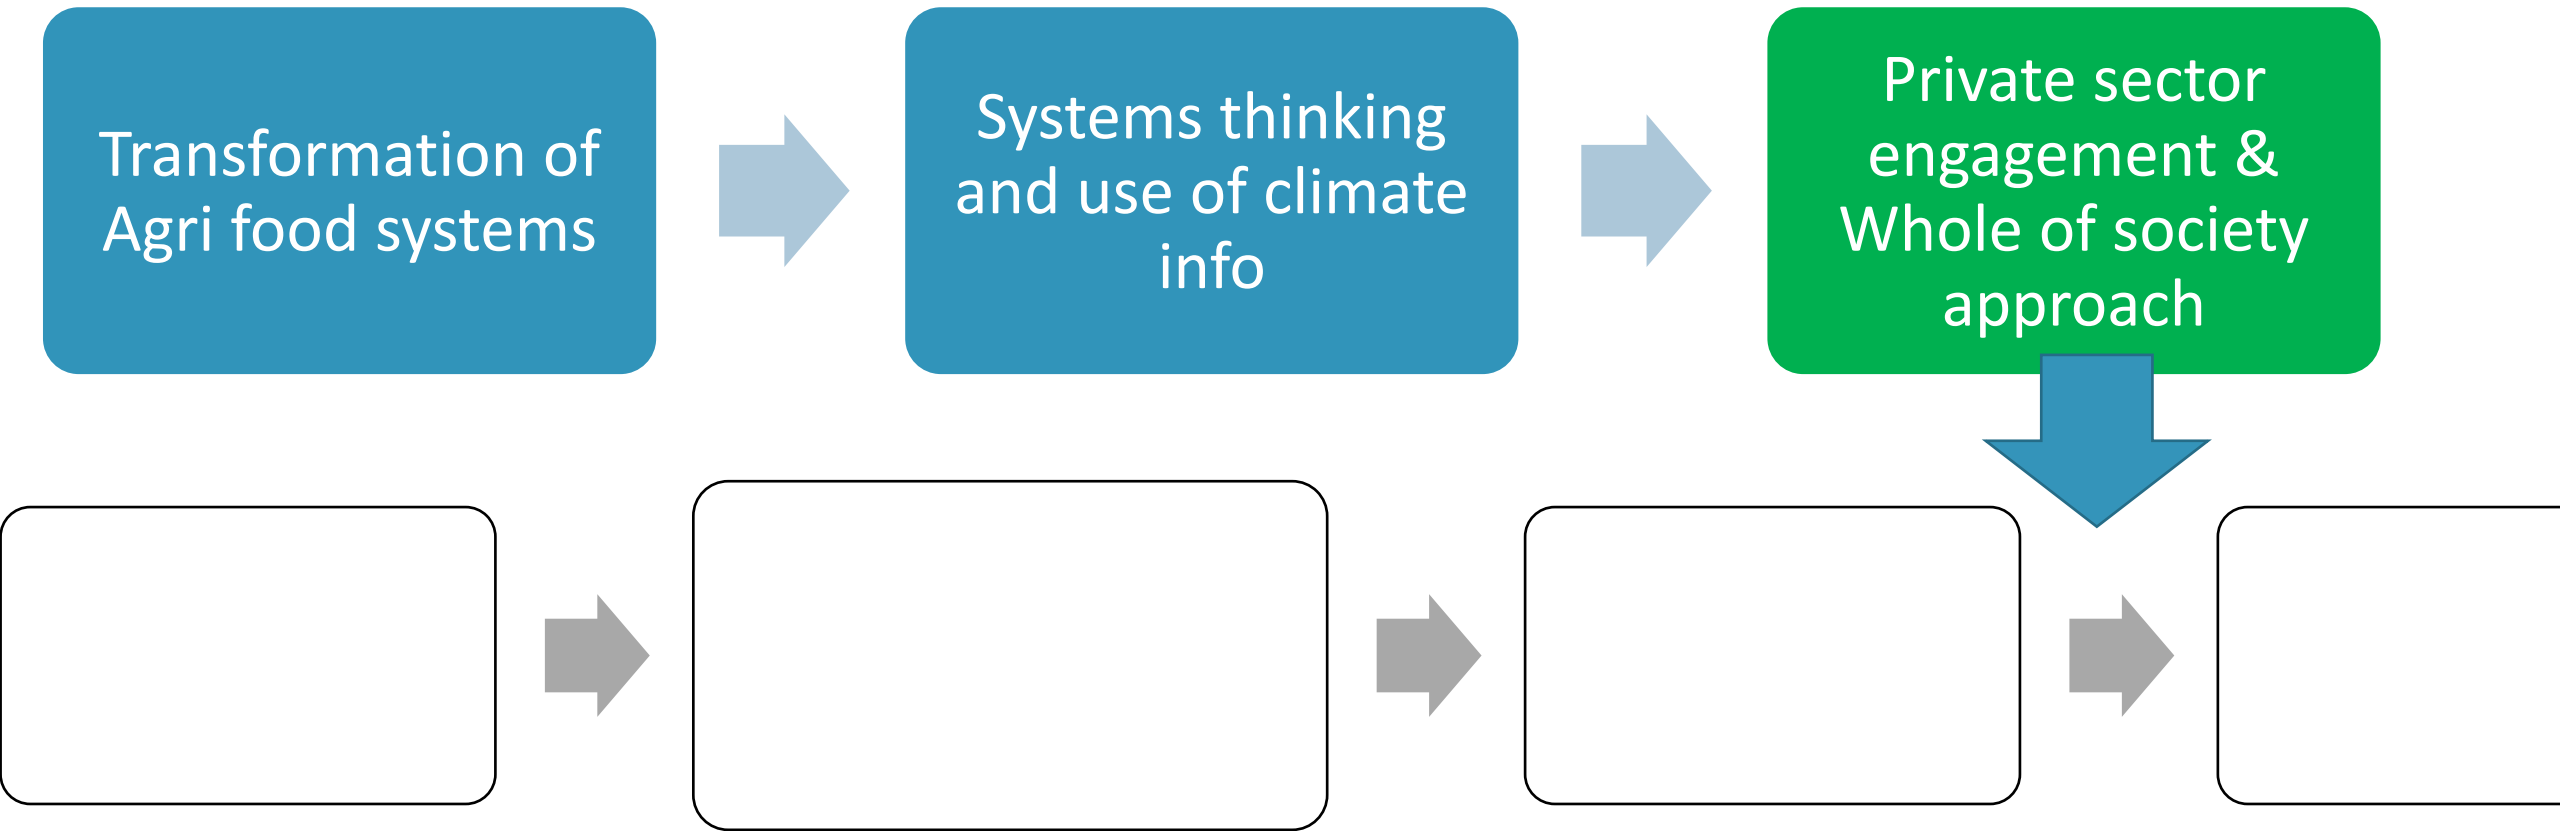

Finance barriers

Global Programme Scaling up Ambition on Land Use and Agriculture through NDCs and NAPs (SCALA) – funded by BMU through IKI

Objective: support countries to translate their NDC and/or NAPs into actionable and transformative climate actions in land-use and agriculture with multi-stakeholder engagement.

Systems wide approach and role of Pvt sector under SCALA

Examples of private sector engagement at FAO

Harness the benefits of technology & big data (by Telefonica) for their coffee production in Colombia

Paradise food limited & sustainable cocoa production in PNG

In Papua New Guinea, partnerships with local private sector promote more inclusive and sustainable cocoa production

The European Union, FAO and Paradise Foods Ltd aim to improve opportunities for smallholder farmers in the cocoa sector

Thank you

Neha.rai@fao.org